best of the high country

skiing, travel, shopping, cuisine, real estate

The best of the high county has always been one of our favorite issues of the year. After all, we get to hear from our readers what makes vacationing and living in the mountains such a joy. For the past nine years we've learned about your experiences, from the best places to stay and eat to little out-of-the-way galleries and boutiques and fun mountain adventures.

This issue is also a chance for us to share the exciting new discoveries we've made as we've traveled throughout the high country during the year—as well as some of our old favorites. We hope our picks inspire you to check out something new.

We're thrilled to present our 8th annual Best of the High County winter edition. And as always, we want to hear from you. Tell us what you think of this year's winter winners and be sure to vote for the best of summer by visiting mountainliving.com

HOME ACCESSORIES WINNER

Lime Stone, Healdsburg, CA
Successful restaurant owners Charlie and Lisa Palmer know how to set a good table. Their hip yet unpretentious shop, situated in the heart of Sonoma's wine country, specializes in tabletop accessories such as linens, china and stemware, but also stocks unique food- and wine-inspired items. Be sure to take the short walk from the shop to Chef Charlie's renowned Dry Creek Kitchen for a memorable lunch or dinner.
